

THE CORE TRUTH of MPIC

The MPIC is the real government.

It's not elected.

It's not accountable.

It's not visible.

It rules through:

- instability
- fear
- division
- surveillance
- crisis
- narrative management
- political capture

America isn't falling apart by accident.

It's being managed by a system that thrives on disorder.

This isn't some far-off danger or conspiracy theory. This is what's happening right now—a Military-Political Industrial Complex that's way beyond what Eisenhower warned us about.

It's a global machine where the military, politicians, corporations, and AI all work together to control war, government, and everyday life.

They hide behind closed doors and sometimes right in front of us, using surveillance, lies, and force to protect their power, while taking away our freedom.

This isn't going to fix itself. We have to see it for what it is, call it out, and fight it.

The MPIC isn't stepping down on its own. It's going to take people who aren't afraid to speak up, stand tall, and take action.
